

K9HEX ~~Joining~~ W9DWH as Well as W9UNY Here

This story is positively not going to start out: "Now there are three hams in the Hamm household," because that would be a pun, which is the lowest form of wit. However, it is safe to say that K9HEX has joined W9DWH and W9UNY at 542 N. 93rd st.

It's all very simple. Jeffrey Hamm, 11, after his 10th try in two years for a general class amateur radio license, has received it. His father, Carl, a police lieutenant in charge of the night shift at the 5th district station, operates W9DWH. His mother, Charlotte, not to be outdone, operates station W9UNY.

It ought to simplify matters for the hams at the Hamm house. Now all Mrs. Hamm needs to do around dinner time is crank up the transmitter of W9UNY and say: "Calling K9HEX. Calling W9DWH. Come on you hams named Hamm. The ham is getting cold."

A radio ham is Jeffrey Hamm, 11, a Star Scout, who has obtained his license as an amateur radio operator. His mother and father are both hams.
